PIGEON LAKE SURVEY OF LOTS IS COMPLETED

Lots Will be Offered For Sale Shortly, Subject to Reserve

Bid. Resort is Mile and a Half Long and

Lots are 66 by 122 Feet in Size

H. W. Fairchild, of the Indian department, Ottawa, is in the city. He has just returned from Pigeon Lake, when the department has laid out in lots an area of 180 acres on the Indian reserve, so that parties desiring to erect cottages for summer use may be able to acquire title to the land. A surrender of the land by the Indians on terms satisfactory to them was made last year. Some forty cottages had already been erected on the property, chiefly by residents of Wetaskiwin, under leasing arrangements with the Indians. It was thought desirable that the Indians should get full value for the property and the owners of cottages should be able to own the land as well. A sale of the lots will be held about the middle of June, subject to an upset price fixed by the department.

Pigeon Lake is about 26 miles due west of Wetaskiwin. There is a good motor road all the way. The lake is a very beautiful body of excellent water. At one time there was a project of bringing Edmonton's water supply from the lake by gravity. It is over 600 feet higher than Edmonton.

The lake is twelve miles long by six miles wide. It is one of the most prolific whitefish lakes in Alberta. It is the chief source of the Battle River. The shores are thickly wooded.

The new summer resort extends for a mile and a half along the shore of the lake near its southerly end and on its easterly side. For the whole distance it fronts on a beautiful, clean sandy beach, which slopes gently into deep water. The survey has laid out 291 lots, 66 x 122 feet. They follow the shore of the lake and the trail which parallels it, in three tiers, one between the trail and the lake, and the other two between the trail and the unsurveyed area.

RYLEY CREAMERY IS DESTROYED BY FIRE WHEN ROOF IGNITES

Ryley, May 25.—The Beaver Lake Farmers' cooperative creamery, west of town, was completely destroyed by fire this morning. The fire caught in the roof from an upright engine about 8:30 a.m., and although attempts were made to save the building nothing but the butter which was on hand, and some of the equipment, was saved.

It is estimated that the total loss will be approximately $10,000. The building was insured for $7,000.

The stock of the creamery was held largely by farmers throughout the district in small lots and the plant has been operating up to capacity for some time. As a creamery is absolutely necessary in the district it is expected that the plant will be rebuilt.

Have you forgotten that the people of Alberta invested $58,000 in closing the bars? And some good meaning people are thoughtlessly "falling for" the propaganda of the liquor interests, which would reopen the bars, and more of them, presumably for the sale of eight per cent beer which we know is intoxicating. It is not the rural people who want this. It is not the trades and labor interests, but the interests that were put out of commission when prohibition was voted in. The interests that talk of "personal liberty" or individual greed as against the public welfare of today and the future welfare of every boy and girl in Canada. This thought when we make it our own must stimulate every woman to renewed activities in her efforts to help hold the ground taken, and press for better law enforcement instead of the abrogation of the best law ever put on the statutes of any country. We regret that moonshine is made, and sometimes a death over reported, because news, occurs in consequence. But some of us remember and venture the assertion that in the palmy days of old "Whiskeytown" all the moonshine made in this district during the past year has not run out of our bars a month.

A Few Hand-outs
"I am convinced that prohibition has proved a blessing to the labor party. We no longer have to compete with the bar room for attendance at union meetings, and the improvement in conditions is readily seen."—Harry Veitch, chairman of Winnipeg Labor Party, 1919.

"Words fail to express the wonderful benefits received by our members on account of the curtailment and prohibition of the liquor traffic."—C. Lawrence, chairman of the dominion legislative board and legislative representative of the brotherhood of locomotive engineers.

"Residents of western Canada have not yet realized how much they are indebted to the pioneers in the prohibition movement. The economic problem confronting the working class today cannot be solved by men whose brains are fuddled."—Alex. Ross, labor member for Calgary.

Prof. Touche, who has been conducting violin classes in Wetaskiwin for the past term, was in town on Monday for the last professional visit until autumn, when he expects to resume his work here. Recently he has been giving his pupils instruction in orchestral work, in addition to the violin.

MONTANA HAS A BIG OIL GUSHER

Calgary, May 29.—A gusher that threw out 5000 barrels of oil and is now flowing at the rate of 3,500 barrels daily, has been struck in the Shelby, Kelvin, Burnstair field, according to telephone reports received here tonight.

WETASKIWIN WINS BASEBALL GAME

The I.O.F. team of Edmonton came down on Victoria Day for a friendly game with the Wetaskiwin aggregation and were humbled by a score of 19 to 2. The Wetaskiwin boys started to play right from the start, and scored three runs in the first inning and three in the second. The visitors were kept scoreless until the seventh inning, when they secured their counters. Eddie Kadlec, who did the mound work for the home team, was quite effective when necessary, and he was ably assisted by the old and popular veteran, Del Gouche, who came in to do the receiving for Wetaskiwin.

In the evening the visitors were entertained at a dance in the Blue Lantern.

SECOND GOVT. CROP REPORT

Edmonton, May 25.—Wheat seeding in the province is finished and in many sections the crop is up and looking healthy and vigorous. The total wheat acreage will be somewhat under last year, but the whole of it is considered that the seeding was done in better shape and on better prepared land. Oats, barley and fodder crop seeding is now progressing. In portions of central Alberta, where the early rainfall has been light, some of the early seeding was held back awaiting rain.

The indications are that considerable oats will be sown this year for fodder crop.

Most sections of the southern part of the province report good rainfall and that the grain is coming along in a fine shape. In parts of central and northern Alberta, there have been good showers, while in other sections more rainfall is needed. On the 22nd a fine rain fell in the east central part of Alberta extending from Saskatchewan to as far west as Ryley. At Irma there was seven hours' rain, at Vermilion one and a half inches. The Grande Prairie district had 1.2 inches on Tuesday, with lighter rains at Peace River and at Bertha and in other sections of the north. The rain is falling at Edmonton and showers are reported as far south as Red Deer. Last week frost was reported in some sections, but only in one or two spots was any damage to young crops reported.

From nearly all points in southern Alberta a large increase in the acreage sown to fodder crops is reported. Considerable new alfalfa acreage has been sown, also a large acreage of corn and snailfodder, indicating that farmers are giving more attention to fodder crops and to dairying. Sweet clover wintered well in central Alberta. Fall rye in some sections is over a foot high. In places the fall rye winter killed where water lay on the crop or where it was covered by snow.

"With anything like a normal supply of rainfall during the growing season the early crop indications would appear to be very fair, the acreage being somewhat less than last year, and the seeding period in most parts very favorable for doing good spring work. Pasture in the central and northern parts of Alberta is short, and will be benefited by good rainfall. Last year's supplies of fodder have been pretty well exhausted.

Grasshoppers—Any danger of a real menace from the grasshopper pest has not yet developed. The whole country was well organized last year, and the work done is showing good effects this season. So far the reports have not been serious.

Card of Thanks

Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Poole wish to thank their neighbors and friends of Wetaskiwin and vicinity for their many acts of kindness and tokens of sympathy extended to them and family during their recent bereavement.

Wetaskiwin Chautauqua dates have been set for this year. They are June 23, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29.

OBITUARY

LEONARD RAGAN

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Win. Ragan in the loss of their youngest son, Leonard, who was taken from them on Saturday morning last. Whooping cough is given as the cause, and he was aged eight months and twenty-six days. The remains were laid tenderly away in the Wetaskiwin cemetery on Monday afternoon, the service being conducted by Rev. W. J. James.

MABEL M. POOLE, B.A.
"Or ever the silver cord be loosed, or the golden bowl be broken, or the pitcher be broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken at the cistern; Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was; and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it." Thus spake the preacher and it would be difficult to find language more beautiful, or which symbolizes more perfectly the finish of a career suddenly cut off from this earth, in all the vigor and beauty of youth. Those thoughts filled the minds of the large congregation assembled in the Presbyterian church on Thursday afternoon last to pay their last respects to the late Mabel M. Poole, B.A.

Shortly after two o'clock the church began to fill and long before the appointed hour the building was packed, the full choir being in attendance.

At two-thirty there is a stir and the sad and solemn procession slowly enters the church and proceeds up the aisle. The congregation reverently stands with bowed heads. The service commences with that grand old hymn "Rock of Ages" that has brought solace and comfort to countless sorrowing hearts. The hymn finished, the Rev. A. L. Elliott, M.A., B.D., raises his hand and all kneel as he prays for the dear lady for help and grace in this last hour. Come a hush, and then softly and with exquisite expression the choir render Tenneyson's beautiful "Crossing the Bar." Then the preacher takes for his text the words above, and in a short and beautiful address tries to bring comfort to those who have loved and lost and mourn. The service is brought to a close by the singing of the hymn "Forever with the Lord" and then the solemn procession again forms and wends its way slowly to the cemetery.

The sun is shining brightly, and some of the birds in the air, and all around is the perfect glory of a beautiful day in May, and to lend added pathos to the scene one remembers that this is Empire Day. The day set apart for festival and rejoicing, and now—there comes on the still afternoon air the voice of the preacher, "I am the resurrection and the life, saith the Lord" and the last rites have begun. Very solemnly, very impressively the service goes on, and then those awful, solemn words, "Ashes to ashes, dust to dust, in and certain hope of the resurrection" and all that is mortal of Mabel M. Poole is lowered reverently to its last resting place. Comes the benediction with its invocation to Almighty God to bestow upon His people His everlasting peace, and all is over.

Back to the everyday life, the common round, the daily task, and so it must be for the world must go on. One more vacant chair, one more mound in God's acre, and it must be left to Time—to do the rest, to soften the terrible blow to those who mourn their loved one. She has gone, but she has not lived in vain, on the contrary it may be said that she indeed lived, and in her all too short life accomplished much. Our sympathy, heartfelt and sincere, goes out to those who are left to mourn her loss, and we can but pray that God in His mercy will help them to bear this bitter blow. Words in times like these seem cheap and empty, and we can but say, "Sleep on, take thy rest, and God keep thy memory green."

"One more vacant chair, one more mound in God's acre, and it must be left to Time."
The bereaved families were very numerous and especially beautiful, among those who contributed being: The Family, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Jones and family, Edmonton, Presbyterian church Senior Choir, Presbyterian church Managing Board, Women's Institute, W.C.T.U., Women's Missionary Society, New Vegreville S.D. No. 149.

JOHN DINNEY
A dark shadow that has overcast Millet and surrounding district has suddenly and swiftly rested on the home and family of Mrs. John Dinney, her beloved husband having been fatally stricken with paralysis on Tuesday, May 22, while returning from his mail delivery on his western pleasure route. Apparently he felt the illness overtaking him, for when found, he had managed to turn the car to one side, too ill to proceed further. He lay immediately brought home, and every medical aid rendered, but he gradually sank into unconsciousness from which he never recovered. His family, pastor, and a few friends were at his side when his life slipped its tether, and he was called home at 11 a.m. May 24. (Victoria Daily)

John Dinney was born at Exeter, Ont., January 20, 1859. In 1881 he was married to Miss Robena Panson, to whom were born ten children, all of whom, except three, were present at the memorial service. He came west in 1911, taking up farming in the vicinity of Millet for a brief time, and then taking up the position of postmaster, which office he has faithfully filled for the past ten years.

He was a very quiet and somewhat retiring disposition, whether in business, social or religious activities, and yet he was always ready to assume responsibilities as a member of the council or steward of the Methodist church when elected thereto. No one can ever forget his clear pronunciation on issues that affected the moral and spiritual welfare of the community and he was ever willing to do his best in spite of the claims of his office upon him.

An eloquent tribute indeed was paid by his many friends that gathered for the funeral service held in the Methodist church, Sunday, May 27, at 2:30 p.m. In spite of the torrid heat that fell heavily all day, the church was packed to its utmost capacity. Rev. I. N. Hugson, pastor, in a most impressive manner laid emphasis upon the value of the quiet and intense Christian life, referring to the exalted place the deceased held in the hearts of all who knew him. His favorite hymns, "A Friend we have in Jesus" and "When Peace Like a River," and others were sung. Solos were feelingly rendered by Miss Daisy Atkins and Mrs. A. A. Dickson, entitled "Does Jesus Care" and "The Homelands."

The beautiful floral display bore a living testimony of him whose life was fragrant with kind and loving deeds. A pillow of flowers was presented by the family; wreaths from the Village of Millet, Board of Trade, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Lynes, Mr. and Mrs. Fraser, H. H. Schulz, Mrs. H. Eastwood, and the Methodist Ladies Aid society. His demise leaves to mourn his loss, a widow, seven daughters, Mrs. Flora Young, Mrs. Rosella Kenney of Edmonton, Mrs. Myra Keith, Lake Saskatchewan, Mrs. Reta Brooke, Ajo, Arizona, U.S., Mrs. Eda Michael, of Toronto, Mrs. Mirota Plintoff, Oshawa,

COUNCIL OF AGRICULTURE PLANS BIG WHEAT BOARD

Scheme Will be Voluntary Cooperative Affair, Spreading over Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba. In Operation by Harvest.

Winnipeg, May 27.—In the belief that there will be no wheat board formed by Saskatchewan and Alberta and that the marketing legislation on the statute books of these two provinces will never become operative, the Canadian Council of Agriculture is making preliminary plans now for the organization of a gigantic grain pool to handle the 1923 crop of the organization.

G. S. ARMSTRONG NOT GUILTY ON THEFT CHARGE

Edmonton, May 30.—"Not Guilty" was the verdict brought in by the jury at 3:35 p.m. yesterday, as to the sound of applause, suspended Postmaster Geo. S. Armstrong was absolved of the charge of theft of $50,000 in Merchants Bank bills from the registration department of the Edmonton post office in August, 1919.

After the charge to the jury by Mr. Justice Simmons, and the retirement of the jury at 3:25, but ten minutes elapsed before they once more were ushered in by Sheriff John Rae, and took their places, followed by His Lordship.

Then the clerk of the court, rising, called the names of the jurors in turn, and in measured tones put the usual question, "Ready or not, guilty?" Without ceremony the foreman announced distinctly "Not guilty" following which the stifled court became filled with a hurricane of hand clapping.

three prairie provinces, states a dispatch from Regina to the Winnipeg Tribune this afternoon. The dispatch says:

"Preparations, it was learned on high authority here today, are already being made for a meeting of the western section of the council to take place in June and officials of the organization are determined to have a pool established by harvest time.

"The scheme will be a voluntary cooperative affair, spreading over Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, and will be handled by the grain expert departments of the Saskatchewan Cooperative Elevator Company and the United Grain Growers, both of which organizations are represented on the council."

GRUMPY PRESENTED AT ANGUS THEATRE

The theatre goers of Wetaskiwin and district were given an enjoyable treat on the evening of Victoria Day, when the famous farce comedy "Grumpy" was presented by a company composed of Edmonton artists. There was not a dull or uninteresting moment throughout the entire performance. The different role of Grumpy was taken by Mr. Eugene C. Davis, who acted the part well, and kept the large audience in a happy and expectant mood. He was supported by a strong cast. The leading lady, Miss Thelma Vohring, won a triumph by the realistic naturalness of her acting. Harry V. Coles was formerly a member of the Allen and the Metropolitan players of Edmonton, and played the leading juvenile role with remarkable finish. Ernest Pellet, W. H. Jackson and H. S. Reynolds are all experienced actors, having appeared in many successful productions. Should this company again appear in Wetaskiwin they will be greeted by a large audience.

STRONG GASOLINE CONTENT IN WELL NEAR WAINWRIGHT

Wet Gas at the British Petroleum well, near Wainwright, has a strong gasoline content, producing 13½ per cent to 1,000 cubic feet of gas, according to a letter which J. O. Williams has received from Edmonton. The gas has been tested at the University of Alberta. As the flow of wet gas is 4,000,000 cubic feet per day, it is stated that the output of gasoline will exceed that of the Dingman well near Okotoks.

U.F.A. MEETINGS

The regular monthly meeting of Cherry Grove U.F.A. and U.F.W.A. will be held at the home of Mr. W. J. Dorchester on Tuesday, evening, June 5th. Visitors welcome.

A meeting of the Haultain local U.F.A. will be held in the school house on Wednesday evening, June 6th, at eight o'clock. E. E. Sparks, M.L.A., will be present and address the gathering. All visitors will be cordially welcomed.

The meeting of John Knox U.F.A. will be held at the home of Richard Ballhorn on Tuesday evening, June 5th. Everybody welcome.

BALL GIVES WAY TO REAL SILVER STAMPEDE NORTH

Dawson, Y.T., May 28.—The Empire Day ball was broken up on Thursday when it was announced that a new silver lodge had been discovered at Happy Creek, 40 miles south of Dawson. The news broke at midnight and an old time stampede was staged. There was a wild race from the dance hall and a scramble for launches, canoes and small boats. The lodge is reported to have been found by Jack Leckie, an Indian, and James Robinson.

PAINS IN HER HEART NERVES WERE VERY BAD

Mrs. John Chase, R. R. No. 4, St.
Catharines, Ont., writes: "I have been bothered very much with my heart and nerves. I would have such bad pains in my heart, at times, I would be almost afraid to move or breathe, and at night I could not sleep.

If the pains in my heart were gone, my nerves would be so bad I could not lie still and would only get a little sleep by being dired out.

My stomach was also very bad and I could not eat but very little, and then only certain things I would have so much distress which always made my heart worse. I had been suffering for nearly two years, until one day I was telling our druggist the way I felt. He advised me to give Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a fair trial. I have now taken five boxes, and am feeling much better. I am able to do my own work, and can eat anything I wish. I cannot praise Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills too highly."

Blue Violets

(By Margaret Brady-North)

Constance Middleton stopped abruptly in front of the display window of the Beuchamp Art School. The paintings and gay posters which had grown so familiar had been removed, and in their place hung a single, lovely picture bearing the inscription "Blue Violets." A child stood in a sunny meadow holding in her hand a loose cluster of the beautiful wild flowers. She was looking up, an expression of questioning wonder in her childish eyes, as if she sought to find in the cloudless blue above the tale-tale hole that would show where a piece of sky had been cut to reveal the violets. For from where else could come those fragrant docks of azure in her hand?

Constance stood gazing at the picture with fascinated eyes. The child was so like her own fatherless little Joyce. But Joyce had been bred in the city. She had never seen, in all her five baby years, violets growing in a meadow, or watched white clouds drifting like downy flocks of sheep in a country sky. The glowing happiness in the upturned questioning face sent a pang through the heart of the young mother. She turned hastily away. The picture had aroused thoughts and memories which she had long been struggling to suppress.

Her way lay through one of the fashionable streets of the city where the March sun streamed down with delicious warmth. Spring was in the air. Its joyousness was reflected in the gay tread of the passers-by; in the wanton shouts of the happy groups of marble playing at the curb, Constance loved the stir and color of it all. Her lips took a determined line. She would not give up, even for Joyce, the life and gaiety and cheerful bustle of the city. Had she not her own happiness to consider?
Phillip, her husband, always had made that his first object. He—he would wish her to consult her own pleasure, her own interests, before Joyce's.
She ran up the steps of Symphony Hall, a relieved smile playing about her lips. The question of changing her career was settled once and for ever.

Constance had earned for herself quite an enviable reputation as an accompanist. At concerts and recitals, and often in wealthy private houses, her services were in great demand. The life suited her exactly, and she was well paid. But of late it had grown increasingly hard to provide for little Joyce and herself. She must have expensive clothes, for she moved in fashionable circles where a good appearance was imperative.
Her earnings seemed to melt away each month, and several large unpaid bills menaced her with a fear of the future.

When the rehearsal was over Constance chose a roundabout way to avoid the art school and the taunting eyes of the child in "Blue Violets" on her way home. She had not gone far when she was overtaken by a grey limousine which the chauffeur adroitly brought to a standstill at her side. A familiar face and beckoning hand appeared at the window. Constance approached the door which had been thrown open for her.

"Do come with me, Constance," Mrs.
Poynter pleaded, as she made room for her friend on the luxuriously cushioned seat. "I am going to the park and it is so lonely whirling around in even that lovely spot without anyone to talk to. Come, get in! The drive will do you good and—and I want to know about Joyce."

Constance hesitated for a moment—but the thought of the sun-bleached road and the fresh spring breezes in the park forced her into a reluctant acceptance.

"We'll not call for Joyce this time" Mrs. Poynter said, as they glided swiftly along the paved street, "for I want to talk about her. I have been very patient, Constance. Surely, in all this time, you have come to some decision."

"It is—it is a hard question for a mother to decide, Florence."

Mrs. Poynter stretched out her delicately gloved hand in an imploring gesture.

"Let me have her, Constance—let me have her. I will be good to your little girl. She shall always be like my very own. You—you know, Constance, I can do well for her. Everything that money can buy she shall have. And you, dear, you will be free to live your own life at last. You—you love your music, don't you, Constance? There was an insinuating note in Mrs. Poynter's voice.

"Better than my child, Florence!" Vainly her position seemed very arrange. But even as she spoke Constance hated herself for the happiness which that vision of untrammelled life brought to her.

"My lawyer is ready at any time to —to meet you, Constance. You understand, of course, that it is to be a

Tears of real feeling ran down Mrs.
Poynter's pretty insipid face.

"Let me have her, Constance," she sobbed. "You—you don't love her I do. I know you don't. You can't love her or you would not leave her alone day after day for a servant to bring up."

A sharp, convicting voice rose in Constance's heart. She stifled it with the old self-asserting cry. "I have my own life to live."

"Take me home, Florence," she demanded suddenly. "I will let you know about Joyce tomorrow. I promise, I will let you know—definitely." That night after Joyce had been put to bed and the good-natured little Irish maid had gone radiantly off to the movies, Constance sat down to think things over.

Her child's small garments, forgotten by Nora in the light-headedness of film-fever, lay in an untidy heap by the hearth. Constance picked them up, touching the plain, home made little clothes with appraising fingers.

"Florence could give the child such exquisite things," she murmured.

THEY CALLED HIM
AN "OLD PILL"

THAT was years ago when he packed a terrible stomach, a mighty irritable stomach, and a liver that refused to do the things that all good livers should. No wonder his friends called him an "old pill" and stayed away.

But that was years ago—long before he discovered Beecham's Pills and learned that two a bedtime can bring sunshine into a man's life. Today, he's an optimist, a hero to his wife, and a staunch believer in Beecham's Pills.

The cheer that Beecham's Pills bring into a man's disposition, is the incomparable cheer of sound digestion, active liver, and the regular habits that make good health.

Mechanics: "How many miles have you run on this oil?"
Car Owner: "About six hundred."

Mechanics: "It's pretty thin. You're get to damage your motor with oil like that. We'll fill with Sunoco this time.
It'll keep its body and you'll notice the difference in the power you get."

Don't make a

You own a car. The most important thing for you to know about that car is—"what is my oil doing?" And if most car owners knew, they'd be amazed.

The safest thing for you to do is to

SUNOCO
THE DISTILLED OIL

For the same reason that you use distilled water when you want pure water—you should use distilled oil.

Sunoco is the only oil which is made in six types—and all wholly distilled; it's pure. It gives more perfect lubriit makes an almost perfect piston ring

Everybody has a certain amount of Civic Pride—that sort of pride which helps make a village a town and a town a metropolitan city.

The growth of any community is dependent upon the support given its citizens. If we fail in our cooperation the town either stands still or retrogrades. If we uphold the town by sustaining it wholeheartedly we help ourselves and the community.
The theme of this advertisement is "Help our town, buy at home"

Let us divide our dollars among our merchants and fellow-citizens who have the interests of the community at heart. Help them and they will help us to greater values—for increased vol-

TRADE
AT HOME

Communities grow in proportion to the support given them by their residents. You cannot boost your city by trading elsewhere or placing business in other localities that could be placed at home. Folks who try to save pennies oftentimes lose dollars. The home merchant is generally honest and offers honest values for your money. He can't afford to be otherwise. He depends for his living upon the community and must give the community what it wants at a fair price. When you are tempted to trade outside and purchase "just as good merchandise at greatly reduced prices," you should think twice before buying. If you are "stung" by your home merchant he will no doubt be glad to make an adjustment. The out-of-town merchant is not personally interested in you. He is intent on selling you once and probably does not expect to sell you again. He does not have to take great care in preserving your good will. More than owing it to your community to trade at home, thus keeping your money at home, you should give the home merchant first opportunity to serve you, from a sound economic standpoint.

A REAL

ALBERTA RAIN

From Edson to Vermilion, and from Hudson's Hope to the international boundary, Alberta got a thorough wetting at the weekend. In the far northern districts, reports are that the showers were lighter and more or less scattered. But from north and west of Edmonton to the eastern and southern boundaries of the province there was almost continuous rainfall from noon on Saturday until midnight on Sunday. Over this great area the ground "has got the best soaking it has had for years. During the entire summer of last year there was not a downfall in any district equal in quantity or duration." At Wetaskiwin 1.90 inches of water fell and the gauges at many other points will doubtless show a similar record.

The timeliness of the fall is as important as the generous amount of it.
Wheat has been sown everywhere, and in most districts "was up and coming along well." But in a good many parts the weather has been too fine for oat seeding, and farmers were holding back until a more liberal moisture supply would give the conditions necessary for quick germination of this seed. They certainly got what they have been waiting for, and the seeders will be the busiest things on the farms of this district for the next week or so. A very important result will be the freshening of the pasture and the starting of the hay crop.
Thus far the pastures have been brown and the meadows showed little promise of fodder for next winter. In a week they will not be recognizable.
Congratulations are accordingly due to the farmer who carries a dairy herd or a bunch of beef cattle. His difficulties in the present are dispelled so far as pasture is concerned, and the outlook for a feed crop is splendid.

One rain does not make a crop, any more than one swallow makes a summer. But one rain at the right time goes a long way, and this one came at precisely the right time. Whatever follows, the crop will get away to a good start, and only persistent persistency on the part of the weather can prevent a fair harvest. With the normal rainfall during the next two months the crop should be heavy.
And the prospect of the summer showers coming as frequently as usual is improved by this business like start of the rainy season. A dry spring does not always precede a dry summer; but when the heavy rains come in late May the following month can usually be counted on to water the crops as often and as generously as they need it. The dry period has been broken, decisively, and we can calculate with assurance on a better season "than last."

One immediate result of this cop-ious downfall will be the restoration of confidence among farmers and townsfolk as to the outcome of the season, and as the future of the country. It is scarcely putting it too strong to say that the succession of dry years has shaken the faith of the

RICH IN VITAMINES

public in the dependability of our weather conditions. There has been a heavy migration of people from this province during the past winter and spring. The prime cause of it was the unsatisfactory crops of recent years; and the doubt that we had not yet come to the end of the cycle of dry seasons. A farming country flour-ishes or withers in proportion to the rainfall. A variable rainfall produces seasons of activity, with intervening years of stagnation. Dry years mean hard times, and the more of them the harder the times. Another drought this year over a considerable section of the province must have been disastrous. Conditions heretofore were not desperate, but they were discouraging. This break in the weather is assurance that Alberta is still Alberta, that we are at the end of the dry years, and may look forward with hope and confidence to good and more uniform crops, and to better conditions on the farms and in the centres.
That restoration of faith in the country will of itself be of incalculable value.

"She sat brooding drearily before the fire.

It was late when Constance went to her room. She went for a moment beside Joyce's little white cot. The child was breathing gently. How quiet the room would seem without that rosy little sleeper. But then—Florence would have such a lovely up-to-date nursery. It would be so sweet to visit Joyce in such a luxurious place.

Constance tossed restlessly on her pillow all night. At dawn she fell into a light doze and dreamed with tragic inevitableness of "Blue Violets." She was roused by Joyce's excited little voice at her side.

"Mummy! Mummy! Wake up mummy; it mornin' an' Norah can't find my dress."

True to her word, Constance that afternoon despatched a note to Mrs.
Poynter. It was brief, and as she had promised, definite.

"Florence dear,
You will be dreadfully unhappy when you read this. I am sorry for myself. In a way I am sorry for myself too. Will you think me a monster I tell you that it was only after a long struggle with myself, my ambitions, my love of all the so-called "good things" of life—that I decided to keep Joyce?

"The decision will mean a great change in my plans. I shall take Joyce back to my little village home, Wyndeligh, up among the hills. You will remember that for years my father was the doctor of the parish.

"We can live so cheaply there—and Joyce needs the country air and the freedom of country life. Do you realize that she has never seen wild flowers growing—daisies or buttercups—or violets.

"If I can get a class of music pupils we shall be quite independent and very happy.

"You have reason, Florence, to think of me as a very strange mother. But it hurt when you said that you loved Joyce better than I—her mother, did.
Perhaps it was true, then, it is not true now. I must love her if I am willing to sacrifice everything for her. Good-night. I think it has come to me what being a mother means.

"Joyce sends a kiss—and goodbye.
We are going up to the village to see about rooms, etc.

"Try to think of us, kindly, Constance."

The sweet April air blew warm across the hills which encircled the little village of Wyndeligh. It was Sunday. Constance, with Joyce at her side, walked half shyly up the little path that led to the small white church. She felt like a stranger, an intruder, in spite of the many familiar faces and the well remembered pews and simple furnishings of the little church.

Her heart sickened with fear as she led Joyce to a seat and slipped in beside the child. She had made a mistake. She did not belong there. Her foolish sacrifice had been forced by a morbid brooding over that sentimental picture in the art school window. She felt that she could never bear the scent or sight of violets again. Joyce would have been happier, better cared for, in a wealthy home, with an adopted parent, than with a mother who at best could provide but simply for her and whose goal was already crying out with a passionate longing for the crowded, friendly streets of the city, for the joyous clasp and chatter of the auditude who took life with such gay in-consequence.

Constance glanced around the church and shivered. How grave and stern the men looked. How capable righteous, stolid, unapproachable, the women! They made her feel immature, inadequate, sitting there with her child beside her, so unequal to the task of guiding that young life.

With a dreary sigh Constance looked forward to the years ahead—the lonely, barren, monotonous years—and her heart grew bitter. She did not listen to the hymns. The hymns mocked her despairing loneliness.

Many came to speak to Constance at the close of the service. The kind words of welcome and hearty handshakes brought a lovely glow of surprised happiness to her pale face.
How she had misjudged the simple villagers. All these years they had kept her in their hearts.

At the door, big Donald Morehouse.

who in the old days had been a boyish lover, stood waiting. He smiled down at Constance, his strong, handsome face alight with the joy of her return.

"We have been waiting a long time for you to come home to us," he said simply, as he took her hand in his firm grip.

"Why, it is—home, Donald," Constance answered looking up happily into her steady eyes.

The April air blew warm and sweet across the Wyndeligh hills, bringing a fugitive breath of early violets.

Constance's lips parted in a tender whimsical smile. She drew Joyce gently to her side.

Made From The
Mildest Cleansers

Palmolive contains Palm and Olive oils.
These oils were the cosmetic cleansers used by Cleopatra and kept her skin fresh, smooth and youthful.

Today their scientific combination in Palmolive produces the most perfect of all facial cleansers. Science has discovered nothing finer, milder or more beneficial for the toilet than Palm and Olive oils.

Artful applications of rouge and powder may lend your skin the appearance of smooth freshness. But unless you cleanse the pores thoroughly every day with soap and water, blackheads, pimples and other blemishes are sure to result.

Some persons imagine that soap is too harsh for the face. They should try Palmolive. Its mild, smooth, creamy lather, when massaged into the skin, cleanses without the slightest irritation.

You can buy Palmolive Soap at all first-class dealers.

Palm and olive oils

The honor of running the first ship into Montreal harbor from the ocean fell this year to Captain Edmund Alkanan, commander of the Canadian Pacific steamer "Bellingham," a freighter. The "Montrose" of the same line was the first vessel to carry trans-Atlantic passengers into the port in 1923.

The number of strikes and lock-outs in Canada during 1922 was 85. The number of working men involved in the strikes was 41,000 and the number of working days lost 1,755,776. Approximately fifty per cent of the time lost was in connection with the strikes of the coal miners in Alberta and British Columbia which lasted from April till the end of August.

Topping the grain shipments from St. John of the 1922-23 winter season by almost four million bushels and establishing a record for the port for volume in a single shipment for one vessel, the 1922-23 grain business through the Canadian Pacific elevators on to May 1st totalled 15,249,281 bushels. The single shipment record was made on an all-weather cargo of 359,793 bushels.

SLIGHT CHANGES

IN THE BUDGET

Ottawa, May 25.—Hon. W. S. Fielding gave notice of some changes in the budget in the house on Wednesday. In the resolutions as they stand the change in the sales tax would take effect on August 1 next. It is proposed to make the date of change January 1, 1924, "inasmuch as that will cover existing contracts and avoid embarrassment of business."

The tax on beverages and confectionery which was to be abolished on August 1, will be abolished on June 1.

The resolutions as they stand, Mr. Fielding said, provide that the dumping duty shall not apply on sugar when the price of that commodity reaches eight cents a pound.

"We are proposing to make a limitation," he said. "We propose that the dumping duty shall continue but that it shall be limited so as at no time to exceed three quarters of a cent per pound."

Edmonton, May 26.—Acting Commissioner Nicholson of the A.P.P. received a wire from Grande Prairie advising that G. Neilson of the Lake Saskatchewan district had been shot and killed by Otto C. Williams on Monday, and that the latter fled to the bush. No details of the shooting are yet to hand. Williams is alleged to have sold his farm the day before the shooting for $350, and is expected to be making his way south.

Stettin, May 28.—J. Almschuch, while taking some of the junior ball players to Astor, on Thursday, met with an accident in which the inmates of his auto narrowly escaped serious injury. While speeding along on a grade he struck and ran over a cow, the car turning turtle and stopping bottom side up. In order to get some of the boys out, one of the doors had to be chopped off. In some miraculous manner none of them were injured.

Increased Accommodation
At Jasper Park Lodges

Jasper Park Lodge, the hostelry which the Canadian National railways has created in an Alpine setting in the heart of Jasper National Park, will be open for the reception of guests this season June 1st to September 30th. Many reservations have been made at this early date, among which are the Alberta and British Columbia Press associations, which will hold their 1923 joint convention at the lodge June 7th, 8th and 9th. Last year the Canadian National railways inaugurated a series of lodges, three miles from Jasper station, which proved so popular to visitors to the park that increased accommodation for 1923 became imperative. The enlarged capacity provides for 250 guests and includes a main lodge, containing a lounge, dining room, and ball room, billiard room, barber shop, shower baths, ten bedrooms, all connected with private bath and all modern conveniences. A wide veranda encircles the lounge and dining room, commanding a panoramic view of Lac Beauvert and its magnificent Alpine surroundings; eighteen four room lodges, containing two rooms with single beds each, two rooms with double bed each, sitting room and bath room, three two-suit lodges, each suite comprising bed-stuffing room, dressing room and bathroom and sleeping porch; two twelve room buildings containing 12 single rooms with one single bed each; bathrooms and toilet accommodation. All the lodges are of log construction with verandas, rustic and harmonious, fittingly furnished and electric lighted and steam heated, each bedroom being supplied with running hot and cold water.

Jasper, the station at which tourists detrain, is charmingly situated on a plateau at the base of Pyramid mountain and close to where the Miette river forms its junction with the Athabasca. As a convenient centre from which tourists may embark upon motor, horseback or hiking trips to various points of interest within or beyond the confines of Jasper park the lodge occupies an ideal situation. The Park's main artery—an excellent motor road lies at the very door of the Lodge, where motor, sure-footed pack horses and experienced guides are always available for the conducting of parties to points of interest either at hand or distant. Outfit and guides are also here procurable for those desiring to embark on big game hunting ventures beyond the confines of the park. Riding is the most popular pastime, while for those who enjoy boating and canoeing, facilities for indulging in either pastime on Lac Beauvert are provided. A golf course is under construction, and it is expected will be playable during a portion of the season. Tennis courts will also be available for use of the guests.

Guests will have the advantage of Canadian National telegraph and express facilities and daily mail service. A resident photographer will be attached to the staff and a curio shop with newsstand is also included. An orchestra will be provided for dancing. Picnic parties can arrange for basket lunches.

For convenience of tourists from the United States, a Canada customs official will be stationed at Jasper during the season to facilitate the clearance of tourists' baggage, etc., from United States' points.

A NASTY, DRY, HACKING COUGH

Was Relieved By Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

That nasty, dry, hacking, lung-racking cough is very wearing on the system. The constant coughing disturbs the rest, keeps the lungs and bronchial tubes in an irritated condition, and the longer it is allowed to stick the more serious the menace becomes, for if the cough becomes settled on the lungs, consumption may ensue.

We know of no remedy that will relieve stubborn coughs—coughs that won't let go—like Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Mrs. Wm. C. Maxwell, R. R. No. 2, Bedford, N. S., writes:—"Having used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup during the 'flu' epidemic I must say I cannot praise it too highly. It brought almost instant relief after being awake for nights with a nasty, dry, hacking cough and sore throat, and I was so sure I could hardly speak."

There is only one Norway Pine Syrup and that is "Dr. Wood's." Be sure and get the genuine. Price 25c and 60c a bottle. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THRIFTLESS

Alas for my neighbor! He blows in the mon he gets for his labor out there in the sun. He works like a beaver, I stare at his smoke, with backwork and cleaver he whacks up the oak; he digs in the ditches, he wrestles with stone, and all of his riches are ruthlessly blown. He's stalwart and able, he's never been sick; ill health seems a fable to that sort of him. He's tall and strong, in sunshine and rain; the notion of saving gives him a blue pain. He's stacking the cordwood in rank upon rank; if only that cove would put plunks in the bank. Some day he'll be older and losing his grip, with pains in his shoulder and more in his hip, with minks in each muscle and cricks in his back, too weary to bustle, the storewood to stack. And then there comes, for instance, the flu, will fill him with sneezes, and make him kerchoo. Ah, then he'll be leaning against an elm stump, and wailing and weeping that he was a chump. He ranked with the slackers, who blow every dime; he'll think of the smackers he burned in his prime. And I will be sitting somewhere within reach, with morals befitting and efforts to preach. Oh, neighbor, you're going to pitfall and gin! Oh, neighbor, quit blowing the playmates in! —Walt Mason.

The Slot Machine Tax act becomes operative on June 1st. This act imposes a license fee of $50.00 per year for these machines. A test case in connection with this act will be taken to the courts.

Had Constipation For Six Months Was Relieved By

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

A free motion of the bowels daily should be the rule of everyone, then there will be no constipation, sick or bilious spells, heartburn, foul breath, sour stomach, etc.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills will regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the bowels, thus making them active and regular, removing the constipation and all its allied troubles.

Mrs. R. C. Hunt, Port George, N. S., writes:—"I have been troubled by being constipated for the last six months. My tongue has been terribly coated, so much so that it made my breath bad. I was talking to a friend about it, and she advised me to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, which I did, and now I am perfectly well. My tongue is as smooth as it was before I got that way, and I owe it all to your Pills, of which I only used two pills."

Mrs. Young Gains
Thirty-Four Lbs.DECLARES TANLAC RESTORED
HER WHEN STOMACH TROUBLE
ALMOST WRECKED HEALTH

"I weighed only a hundred and fourteen pounds, my face was sallow and sunken and I was thin as a rail. But since taking Tanlac I weigh one hundred and forty-eight, have the rosy cheeks of a school girl, and enjoy good health for the first time in fifteen years." This was the remarkable statement made recently by Mrs. Bella Young, 98 Sathcart Street, Hamilton, Ontario.

"The last year of my sickness I was near a nervous breakdown, and my appetite was so poor even the odor of food sometimes nauseated me. Headaches, pains in my stomach and back nearly set me wild and I would walk the floor for hours. I got so weak I could hardly step over to lace my shoes, and my housework was a burden."

"The Tanlac treatment gave me a wonderful appetite, built me up till friends wondered at my great change, and I always feel strong and well. I will never cease to praise Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere.

BY AUTO ON THE GULF OF GEORGIA

WHO has not heard of the thousand isles of the Gulf of Georgia? This Gulf is a ramification of the great strait of Juan de Fuca famed in legend and history, through which the Spanish navigators sailed hundreds of years ago, and which is now one of the important trade routes of the world. It separates Vancouver Island from the mainland of British Columbia and the State of Washington, and is one of the most beautiful waterways known to man.

The city of Victoria, at the extreme south end of Vancouver Island, has several ferry lines connecting it with the mainland, but as the steamship services in the past have proved inadequate for the large crowds of summer visitors and motor tourists, the Canadian Pacific Railway Company has put into service a fast-going vessel which operates twice daily between Victoria and Bellingham, Washington. The ferry is an important addition to the Canadian Pacific fleet and its name, "Motor Princess," is appropriate in that it is the first vessel of the company, operating on the Pacific, to be equipped with internal combustion engines. These engines give the boat a speed of about fourteen knots. On the two main decks there is parking space for fifty automobiles, and there is well appointed accommodation for two hundred and fifty passengers, saloon, restaurant,

An inspiring vista of the west coast Archipelago.

Sectional view of the "Motor Princess" showing method of storing cars. Smoking room and deck spaces for promenading. The route travelled by the ferry is marked by islands, some of them many miles in extent, others gemlike little islets which make the waterway a succession of magnificent pictures. The traveller is further entranced by the magnificent view of Mount Baker standing garbed in its everlasting mantle of snow among its satellites the foothills. This lordly mountain is on the mainland near Bellingham, and beautiful and inspiring, it is seen at its best when travelling to or from Victoria.

FROM HARD TIMES TO CANADA

Do the pipes hum? Migrants aboard the tender of the WHEN the Canadian Pacific steamships "Marloch" and "Metagama" last docked at St. John, Canada, gained to the extent of over six hundred able-bodied and industrious farmers, farm workers and women from the Hebrides. Forced by the loss of their fishing trade through the war and German competition, and by general hard times to leave their thatched homes, these people have come to a land of promise and have been welcomed as the most valuable immigrants in years. Under the leadership of Rev. Alexander J. Gillies and Rev. John MacMillan, they have gone to the Red Deer district of Alberta and to various parts of Ontario, where they will engage in agriculture.

Most of them are from the island of South Uist, Benbecula and Barra. Here their families worked small farms of from ten to twenty acres and kept a stock of from two to eight cattle and ten sheep on common pasturage. In the spring they gathered seaweed for fertilizer, planted oats, barley, rye and potatoes, and when this was done took to the sea, some to engage in fishing, which brought but small monetary return, and others to join the merchant marine. In the fall those who were near returned home, harvested the small crop and thatched their houses. But there was no work for all. It was of no use to fish when there was no market and one man could do the work of the farm which produced but little. The wolf was at every door, almost, and the emigration officer received more applications for information and later assistance than he could comfortably handle.

These people having arrived and received welcome have already backed down to work. Their losses at home have contributed to Canada's gain. A large party have gone to Red Deer where they will build their own church and school, and in addition to English they will retain their own native Gaelic tongue. The remainder of the immigrants have been split up as hired men in various parts of Ontario. Over four hundred were passengers on the "Marloch," the rest on the "Metagama."

YEOFORD

The Red Cross branch held a very successful dance in the hall on Friday, the 5th. A large crowd was present and everybody reported a good time, the music being provided by Messrs. Hanzo and Neslund.

The junior members of the Yeford Red Cross branch are giving a grand concert and dance in the Red Cross hall on Friday, June 15th. It is hoped that a large crowd will be present and help the youngsters out. The admission to both concert and dance will be 50 cents.

With twenty hours' rain during the week-end this part of the province is off to a good start. The crops are all up and look extra well and the grass is making a good growth.

Owing to the rain on Sunday last Mr. Deprose was unable to hold services at Keystone and Wenham Valley. Don't forget the concert on June 15. Come and see Doughnut, the dog's fool, and Princess Bonbon. Come and see Peter the pastry cook and Carrots.

Mr. Deprose intends to hold services at Keystone, Sunnyside and Fern Creek next Sunday.

A large number of fires were burning in the district but the rain has dampened them down.

Several settlers have been fined during the past week for having fires on their places without having proper fire guards.

Departmental examinations will be held this year on June 19th for grade XI, 20th for grade X, and 25th for grade XII.

TOWN TOPICS

The Blue Lantern has suspended their Friday night dances until the fall.

Miss Irene Torsen went to Ponoka last week to spend a few days with friends.

A. G. Krotch, manager of the Rev-elstake Sawmill Co., made a business trip to Calgary this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Johnson and family expect to leave in a few days on an auto trip to California. They will likely be away about three months.

Miss Young, who has been spending a few days at the parsonage, returned to her home in Edmonton on Monday afternoon.

The exterior of Whyte & Orr's hardware store is being greatly improved in appearance by a coat of paint.

The Norwegian Ladies' Aid Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Bekeheim on Friday, June 5th, at 2.30 p.m.

Messrs. Roy Ballhorn and William Thibault are attending the stock show and sale at Lacombe this week. They each have three animals in the sale.

The Oddfellows and Rebekahs of Wetaskiwin will hold a memorial service on Sunday, June 10th, when the graves of departed brothers will be appropriately decorated.

Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Irwin left for Edmonton Monday. Mr. Irwin will attend the Methodist conference and Mrs. Irwin will visit relatives and friends.

E. H. L. Thomas left Wednesday morning for Edmonton to attend the Methodist conference as one of the lay delegates from the Wetaskiwin district.

The many friends of Johnston Thirk are glad to know he is convalescing nicely from his attack of pneumonia. He left the hospital for his home last week.

Mrs. E. H. L. Thomas, Mrs. E. T. Williamson, Mrs. W. Mellett and Miss Virginia Millin went to Edmonton the fore part of the week as delegates to the Women's Missionary Society.

The Wite-On Bible class of the Methodist church will hold their annual lawn social on Friday, June 22. Full particulars later. Keep the date open.

Ernest Kaiser was successful in winning the wrestling bout at Jasper last week. This week he went to Mountain Park, where he has another contest the latter part of the week.

The regular meeting of the Scandinavian hospital aid will be held with Mrs. John Asp, June 5. Everybody is cordially invited, as there will be no more meetings until the first Tuesday in September.

Messages broadcast from CHBC, the Morning Alberta radio station, by W. W. Grant, of the W. W. Grant Radio Ltd., and owner of C.F.N., were heard approximately 5,000 miles from Calgary on board a steamship just out of Yokohama, Japan.

The sewing committee of the Hospital Aid society will hold a tea and food sale on Saturday, June 2nd, from three to six, at the home of Mrs. H. M. Parker. Proceeds to be used in purchasing material for bazaar to be held in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller and family, who left a few weeks ago for California, where they expected to reside indefinitely, returned to the Wetaskiwin district Friday last. Mr. Miller did not find conditions there exactly as he expected, hence his return to "God's Country."

On May 21, Geo. P. Root sold to Parslow & Damon, 22 steers rising 2 years that averaged 1220lbs; two 3-year olds weighed 3200lbs, and brought $201.37. On May 28 he sold to Gainers, Ltd., 27 steers and heifers about 12 months old that averaged 753 lbs and $54.81. One 13 months old calf weighed 1050lbs and fetched $73.50. There were 3 July calves in the lot. This is considered the best bunch of calves ever sold in Wetaskiwin.

On Friday of last week E. A. Bryan brought into The Times office an egg weighing four and one-half ounces, laid by a pure bred White Wyandotte pullet on his farm in the Crooked Lake district. He also reports a peculiar case of cooperation between a tame turkey and a prairie chicken in the use of one nest which he found on his farm. They take turns in the nest, and there are now ten prairie chicken eggs and five turkey eggs in process of hatching. The birds show no animosity towards each other.

MILLET

The Women's Institute monthly dance will take place at the red room on Friday, June 1, at 8.30 prompt. Special music has been engaged. The dance committee wish to remind the young ladies that they are to bring cakes. We know that the young ladies are always busy but this gentle reminder will no doubt be heeded. The spirit that it is given. At the last dance very few ladies remembered to bring a cake until the time came, and there were two cakes to 69 people.

The board of trade held a very largely attended meeting at the red room last Friday. It was decided to have the annual board of trade picnic on Monday, July 2, as the 1st will be on a Sunday. After a long discussion it was decided to purchase a silver cup which is to be called the Millet Board of Trade Baseball Cup. This cup is to be played for every 1st of July, the winners to hold the cup for one year and also to receive $25.00. Wetaskiwin, Leduc, Millet, and Conjour Lake will be asked to compete, and any other baseball club between Wetaskiwin and Leduc that wishes to take part may do so.

The board of trade will meet in the community hall on the second and fourth Thursdays during the year. The council are spending quite a little money on drainage and are also fitting in the back. After the big rain on Sunday water on Millet streets is conspicuous by its absence.

FEDERAL OFFICERS TO SEIZE ALL CARS WITH "MOONSHINE"

The seizure and confiscation of all automobiles caught carrying moonshine liquor manufactured outside of the pale of the inland revenue act, will be carried out in future by officers of the federal inland revenue department in Calgary. This announcement was made by H. B. Jackson, a departmental inspector at present stationed in Calgary.

The inland revenue department in Calgary is at present holding a Nash sedan that was seized following a recent arrest. Condemnation proceedings against this car will be commenced within the next few days. This will be the first time that this phase of the inland revenue act has been enforced in the province no other cars ever having been retained following their seizure with illicit liquor.

EX-SERVICE MEN WILL FLOCK TO THE FORT ON JUNE 4TH.

Port Saskatchewan, May 26—Arrangements for the reunion of ex-service men and their friends, which is to take place at Port Saskatchewan on June 4th, under the auspices of the G.W.V.A., are now practically complete and the big posters announcing the program are everywhere on display. All tastes are being consulted, and it will be a wonderful cooperative effort which will undoubtedly secure well merited success. The G.W.V.A. is putting on a special train, and the prices for general admission are so reasonable that a large crowd is assured, given favorable weather.
